

Jack Tanselle

Jack has over 25 years of experience in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device industries, ranging from product and therapeutic area strategic planning to enterprise risk management and compliance program effectiveness. Jack assists life sciences clients with compliance program transformations, global compliance risk assessments, and associated monitoring planning and implementations, focused on optimizing resources, leveraging technology solutions and using fit-for-purpose analytics to help clients continuously identify and mitigate high risk activities and issues.