

Roeland Van Aelst

Roeland joined Johnson & Johnson in 1987 as a Medical Representative for Janssen Pharmaceuticals. He held various positions of increasing responsibility in both sales and marketing and joined the Compliance organization of Johnson & Johnson in May 2005 for the EMEA region with extension to Asia, Latin-America and Canada in 2008. In 2010 Roeland became responsible for EMEA & Canada cross sector, followed by a sector lead position for Medical Devices EMEA in 2012. His current position since November 2019 is Regional Lead Third Party Intermediary Ethics and Compliance EMEA. He is also the chairman of the MedTech Europe Code Committee and a member of the MedTech Europe Ethics and Compliance Committee. Roeland is a founding member and the current president of ETHICS, an international association of Health Care Compliance professionals.